Clarity & Change

Workshops ◇ Keynotes ◇ Executive Coaching

Dr. Wini Curley, The Clarity & Change Catalyst, helps organizations and executives who have been knocked sideways to come through that challenge feeling stronger, whole, connected, and empowered. When we try something new or deal with unwanted change, the stress and pressure contaminates our thoughts and attitudes with doubt and fear. Those are the enemies of positive change. Wini empowers audiences to cleanup and detox negative beliefs and attitudes, glean the lesson from the challenge, access intuition, and use practical tools to make changes that last.

For over 20 years, Wini has been a sought after environmental toxicologist, consultant, and expert witness cleaning up hazardous waste sites. At the same time, she handled her personal challenges—a daughter with a life threatening condition, and later her own emergency surgery and a brush with mortality. Personal growth study became her passion, and now her business. She is an expert at cleaning up toxic messes whether they are out in the environment, or inside your head and heart. Her years serving corporate clients, working in small to large top tier consulting firms, and owning her own firm provide Wini with the skills and experience to relate to her clients in business and professional associations.

What Clients Are Saying

“ Dr. Curley implemented training for approximately 80 Relationship Bankers at BB&T and did an outstanding job. She displayed impressive teaching and presentation skills, and engaged the audience. I received a lot of positive feedback on her presentation. She came well prepared, and I consider her to be a great resource. It was a pleasure to work with Dr. Curley, and I encourage you to reach out to her.” Scott Greene, Senior Vice President, Regional Retail Banking Manager, BB&T

“ Dr. Wini Curley presented an inspiring message of optimism in the face of change to a group of trainees. They were engaged and motivated by the positive ideas and caring she shared. Wini was also a pleasure to work with at every stage of planning her talk. Many thanks from the instructors and students! “ Jennifer Miller, Asst. Professor, USC Sol Price School of Public Policy

“ Wini provides honest, non-confrontational and easy to implement solutions to challenging internal issues. Her insight is invaluable. I highly recommend her to those who are attempting to make changes (from simple to major) in their lives, businesses or careers. “
